Subject: Economics

Component: HL paper 1

Question 2 Part	Marks awarded	Marks available	Comments
(a)	7	10	The response recognizes the existence of market-based and interventionist supply-side policies. The response also addresses both parts of the question in terms of domestic and international competition, but it is not a detailed explanation. Therefore, the specific demands of the question have been addressed and understood. The explained theory is relevant, and the terminology has been appropriately used. The diagrams are clearly drawn and are explained in the context of the question.
(b)	12	15	The specific demands of the question have been addressed and understood. The question was posed in such a way that candidates needed to consider alternative policy options to determine whether interventionist supply-side policies were the best approach to reduce unemployment. This response does that and explains relevant economic theory. However, the depth of evaluation applied to interventionist supply-side policy is basic; a deeper analysis would have improved the response. The diagrams are clear, and there is some attempt to explain them. Real-world examples have been introduced, and an effort has been made to integrate them into the response at various points. The use of terminology is generally sound.
